TRIAL OF ACCUSED WOMAN PROCEEDS

Providence, R. I., Jan. 11.—While Mrs. C. Franklin Mohr, accused with two negroes of murdering her husband, Dr. Mohr, remained behind, deputies, counsel and jurors today made a trip to the lonely spot on the Nayatt-Newport road where Mohr was shot last summer while autoing with a former girl employe.

Attorney Rice planned to make the opening statement for the state this afternoon. His main argument was to be that the negroes, Cecil V. Brown and Henry Spellman, had confessed to aiding in the killing plot at Mrs. Mohr's behest. Attorney Lewis, negro counsel for the defense, however, will maintain that the confessions were wrung from his clients under police sweating.

George Healis, negro chauffeur of the death car, will be the state's star witness.

OFFICERS HUNT FOR CONTRABAND BOOZE

Tacoma, Jan. 11.—Eight deputy sheriffs with Deputy Prosecuting Attorney George M. Thompson, armed with search warrants, began raiding houses and stores under suspicion of violating the prohibitory law at Wilkeson and Carbonado, mining towns near here, early today.

Sheriff Longmire says that positive evidence has been obtained against several persons and that a dozen search warrants were used.

PLEAS OF GUILTY
MAKES SENTENCE LIGHT

San Francisco, Jan. 11.—It is cheaper to plead guilty in Federal Judge Dooling's court and relieve the government of the cost of prosecution, it was proved today.

Charles P. Class, saloonkeeper of Eureka, and Frank Morgan, his bartender, pleaded not guilty to a charge of selling liquor to Indians and were convicted. Both received a 60-day sentence and were fined $200.

Then came Si Lane and J. O. Osterle, similar occupations similar offenses and pleaded guilty. One day in jail and a $50 fine apiece was the court's sentence.

Guild Meeting Wednesday

The regular business and social meeting of the ladies of St. Luke's Guild will be held at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at the Guild hall.

Barn Crushed by Snow

A new hay and stock barn recently completed by Sherman Jess on his place about 12 miles from town, on route 2, has collapsed under the weight of the recent snowfall. Carrier George Swinney reports about 21 inches of snow on his route, and that he was only able to make about half of his trip today.

Advertisers Here

Geo. W. Lane and C. W. Glick, representing A. Schilling & Co. of San Francisco, are spending a few days in the city in the interest of their firm. The Schilling company has used the columns of the Daily Courier to make known the superiority of their pack of coffee, and their advertising, aside from being advertising is good reading.

Boys' Club Meeting Tonight

The Associated Boys club will meet tonight to perfect the organization. There will be an election of officers and steps will be taken to start the different basketball squads to work as soon as possible. The meeting will be held in the office of the Josephine County Abstract company at 7:30 p. m. Persons interested in this club are cordially invited to attend.

Former Attorney General Here

A. M. Crawford, former attorney general of the state of Oregon, arrived in the city Monday, and appeared in the circuit court, where he was represented in the defense in the case of Peaken vs. the Rogue River Irrigation and Power company. The jury returned a verdict against Mr. Crawford and his associates, but he says that after hearing the evidence in the case he knows that the verdict was a just one.

Repairing Line Breaks

Repairman Walgamot of the Southern Pacific company was in the city for a few hours this morning, having come in from the seat of the wire trouble in the northern end of the county. With several crews of men, some of them on snow shoes, they have been endeavoring to open and keep open the wire service between Grants Pass and Roseburg. Yesterday it was necessary to use a 2,490-mile circuit in order to dispatch trains the hundred miles between Grants Pass and Roseburg.

Snow Melting in Valley

The light fall of snow on the Rogue river bottoms has now about melted away. A slight freeze late Monday night stopped any danger of flooding waters, and the Rogue shows no appreciable raise. The snows in the mountains are not yet melting. The most of the moisture in the valley is sinking into the ground as fast as it melts, and is supplying some of the deficiency of the past year. The heavy fall in the mountains is most gratifying to the mining men and assures them of full streams for placer mining late in the season.

Sole leather, shoe nails, shoe hammers, stands and lasts—in fact everything you need to repair your shoes—can be had at Rogue River Hardware. 641

35 FEET OF WATER
OVER COLUMBIA BAR

Portland, Jan. 11.—The Columbia river bar has vanished, announced Major Jewett, government engineer, today, after completing the annual survey of the mouth of the river. The survey shows a channel 1,500 feet wide with a depth of 35 feet at low water.

The Portland waterfront was jubilant today following this announcement. It was pointed out that this survey was made following two months of the worst storms the Oregon coast has ever seen. Usually during storms the bar fills up.

Marriage Not a Profession

Marriage cannot be classed with anything but itself. It is marriage and nothing else—a wonderful mixture of experiences and duties on many different planes. So far as its spiritual demands go, it may ask of a woman, as of a man, all she has in her, or it may not. So far as its material demands go, it may require everything or nothing. It may of necessity fill her life or leave it empty. To call it a profession is to blur its meaning, for it is much more than this and much less. —Elizabeth Woodbridge in Atlantic Monthly.

ALBINO QUAIL IS SEEN WITH FLOCK NEAR CITY PARK

An albino quail, its plumage as white as the snow that glistens on the mountains, was seen with a flock of 36 valley quail feeding upon wheat scattered under the bushes back of Fred Merrill's home on the south side of the river this morning. Mrs. Merrill has been putting out wheat for the quail in that neighborhood during the past few days of storm, and every day numbers of the little beauties have been accepting the charity. This morning with the three dozen was the white one, his every feather being as free from color as that of a dove, his crest feathers also being pure white. He mingled with his fellows, and the entire covey being gentle and unafraid, he was viewed at close range by Mrs. Merrill.

One morning last week when Mrs. Merrill went out to scatter grain for the quail she found a trap set under the bushes and in it four trapped quail. She liberated the quartette and took possession of the trap, which is now doing duty as a hen's nest. The name of the person who was violating the law has not been learned, however.

SETH BAILEY NOT GUILTY IS VERDICT

At four o'clock this afternoon the jury in the case of the state of Oregon vs. Seth Bailey returned a verdict of not guilty, after having been out about an hour.

The trial of Seth Bailey, charged in an indictment from the grand jury of obtaining money under false pretenses, the allegation being that he gave Cecil Schilling a check for $8 when he had no funds on deposit in the bank against which the check was drawn, has been on in the circuit court today. The taking of evidence and the argument of attorneys was completed late this afternoon, and the case was given to the jury at about three o'clock. The jury is composed of M. L. Opdycke, H. K. Miller, J. E. Hamersley, F. B. Weatherbee, J. R. Entiken, Geo. T. Morris, D. W. Davis, L. W. Richardson, R. S. Crockett, Frank Dessinger and E. S. Veatch.

Attorney Jesse Johnston represents the defendant, while the interests of the state are in the hands of District Attorney Miller.

A verdict was rendered last evening in the case of Edmund T. Perkins vs. the Rogue River Irrigation and Power company et al. Through the verdict the plaintiff was given judgment against A. M. Crawford and P. A. Williams for $351.25, claimed due the plaintiff from the company, which had formerly been organized to operate in this county.

CALIFORNIA'S SOLONS LIKE PAY

Sacramento, Jan. 11.—The legislature convened this morning to see that the seven bills passed during the special session were properly enrolled and engrossed—a formal matter to adjourn sine die—and to draw $19 each for an additional day.

The senate put through the Young bill by a vote of 25 to 8 and the assembly passed the San Francisco normal school bills by a vote of 52 to 18 late Monday.

As predicted by Senator Luce, the San Diego exposition bill went through the assembly without a dissenting vote. Thus the governor scored clean victories on all issues.

Although it would have been possible for the legislature to have adjourned last night, both houses voted to stay over until Tuesday, some of the legislators confessing that the $10 for an extra "day" looked good to them. The work this morning was cleared up in less than an hour.

Under the Young bill a voter will not state, when he registers, the political party to which he belongs, but will declare his party at the time of the primary election when he asks for a ballot.

ESCAPED JAIL BIRDS CAPTURED

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 11.—After a night of battling, Joliet police at daybreak had rounded up four prisoners who at midnight escaped from the Joliet prison quarry. Edward Roebek, leader; Bob Fleming and John Fleming were taken after an auto posse met them on the road.

Both sides opened fire, and more than 100 shots were exchanged. Roebek did not give up until in a hand-to-hand encounter with Captain McCraney he was overpowered.

Bill Fleming, the fourth prisoner, barricaded himself in his home with his wife. Just before daybreak 30 policemen surrounded the place and shot it full of holes. Fleming kept up his fire in reply until a bullet winged his left foot and he was forced to surrender. During the combat Fleming's wife cowered behind the bed, without attempting to mix into the fray.

PORTLAND STOCK YARDS

ARREST TEUTON SYMPATHIZERS

Athens, Jan. 11.—Allied troops stationed outside a Bulgarian church at Saloniki today arrested several Teutonic sympathizers, suspected of espionage.

This action, following other arrests, is expected to provoke a fresh protest to the allies from Greece.

The Hestia today declared that Greek ships detained at Malta and elsewhere had been released and said that the allies had guaranteed not to hinder supplies for Greece within the limits prescribed by the commission sitting in Paris.

Parliament convenes January 24, and meantime the government is seeking assurances that the Venizelos members will not embarrass King Constantine in dealing with both the entente and central allies.

"The House of Tears"

Unique plot, select cast, superb photography. This is a first-run picture and has not been shown even in Portland yet.

A grim tragedy of the divorce court, a child left in a tortured father's care, a misjudged and misguided woman who seeks solace for the wrong done her by becoming the wife of the "other man," years of misery for all, the father's sudden death after his financial ruin, the mother's ultimate desertion by the "other man," and finally, through a strange chain of circumstances, her discovery that he is about to wed the daughter whom she has not seen for years, form a graphic and supremely pathetic story of unusual character.

"The Final Judgment" photography has been delayed, but will be shown later at the Star.
